

Leap Victim's Services To Be In Iowa

The body of Joseph Harvey, 36, who plunged to his death Thursday from a Police Station window will be taken to the Boothby Funeral Home at Cherokee, Iowa, Det. Capt. John F. Struzenski said Friday.

Struzenski said a man who identified himself as a brother of Harvey's, who lives in Denver, arrived in Akron to make arrangements and then left again.

Harvey, who was arrested early Thursday on a morals charge involving three teenage boys, had told police he had no brothers or sisters.

STRUZENSKI said the brother refused to discuss the case with officials here.

Harvey, a native of Dunedin, Fla., where his mother lives, was driving a 1953 convertible from Flint, Mich., to Florida when he stopped here.

Struzenski said the Chicago company which owned the car was arranging to have it picked up here and returned.

It still was not known whether Harvey ever had been arrested elsewhere. Struzenski said a routine check throughout the country probably will take a week or more to complete.

HE SAID the police chief in Dunedin, Fla., however, informed him that Harvey never had been arrested there.

Mrs. Zaida Bencker of Dunedin, who Harvey said was his mother, now is in Denver visiting the brother, who made the funeral arrangements.

"The big concern of Harvey's brother," Struzenski said, "was how to break the news to his mother."
