

Q—How old are the Akron Police Station and City Hall? JAMES LEE, AKRON.

A—Akron's City Hall at High and Church sts. was finished in 1928, solving a long-standing problem of where to house all the city departments.

Prior to that, City Hall has been next door to the present building in what is now the Akron Police Station at High and Bowery sts.

This building, finished in 1908, was never adequate for its purpose and some city departments worked from leased office space. It never proved adequate as a police station and jail either. The Akron Police Department will move to the new Safety Building when construction there is completed.
